

THE KNIGHTS'

Information for YOU!

"The battle for humankind's future must be waged and won in the public school classroom...between the rotting corpse of Christianity and the new faith of humanism." John Dunphy – The Humanist Magazine

As millions of children head off to school each year many parents breathe a sigh of relief. The new school season brings daytime quiet to the home. Busy moms and dads won't have the extra worry of keeping an eye out on their kids all day long. Thinking back to their own fond memories of fun filled school days, field trips, clubs, sporting events and school dances, parents anticipate a well rounded curriculum and needed socialization for their precious ones. However, walking into a field of land mines couldn't be more dangerous. A land mine may rob you and your child of her life, but today's schools could rob your children of their soul. In 1973 in the February 10th edition of The Saturday Review of Education, NEA president (National Education Association) Catherine Barrett wrote that "Dramatic changes in the way we will raise our children in the year 2000 are indicated, particularly in terms of schooling. We will need to recognize that the so-called basic skills, which currently represent nearly the total effort in elementary schools, will be taught in one-quarter of the present school day. When this happens – and it's near – the teacher can rise to his true calling. More than a dispenser of information, the teacher will be a conveyer of values, a philosopher. We will be agents of change." And humanist Paul Blanshard pronounces: "I think the most important factor leading us to a secular society has been the educational factor. Our schools may not teach Johnny to read properly, but the fact that Johnny is in school until he is eighteen tends to lead toward the elimination of religious superstition. The average child now acquires a high school education, and this militates against Adam and Eve and all other myths of alleged history." In the Free Enquiry, Kathy Collins, who was the legal consultant to the Iowa Dept. of Education, criticized "the Christian fundamentalists who want the freedom to indoctrinate their children with religious education" and "any law that would allow Christians to teach their children without oversight or interference from the state." She goes on to state that while the religious right carries the Christian flag into battle, the state must steadfastly hold high the banner of the child." One of the most insidious rights that the globalists/humanists insist upon for our children is the right to live according to their "perceived" sexual orientation. Child rights' activists see this as fundamental to the proper care and upbringing of children. Members of the Parents' Rights Coalition, a Christian organization, attended a recent conference of the Gay, Lesbian and straight Education Network at Tufts University in Massachusetts. GLSEN trains teachers and students and develops programs to fight those who oppose the homosexual agenda. Workshops featured included, "From Lesbos to Stonewall: Incorporating Sexuality into a World History curriculum" and "Early Childhood Educators: How to Decide Whether to Come Out or Not." Employees of the Mass. Dept. of Ed. Taught a course titled "What They Didn't Tell you about Queer Sex and Sexuality in Health Class." Parents in Ithaca, NY were appalled when a gay lecture series by Family Alliance for Cultural Tolerance came to their schools during the last school year. Students were exposed to such lectures as "Can I be gay and a Christian?" This school saw nothing wrong with discussing Christianity in this context, but students cannot pray or study the 10 Commandments without fear of persecution.

These modern day Marxists contend that children come in many different combinations of mental gender (sexual orientation) and promotes this as fact. Explicit sex education in grades as young as kindergarten are tailored to "help" a child discover his/her gender identity. They are encouraged to try many different forms of "love". Anyone who doesn't understand this are viewed as enemies of the child and thus enemies of the state. Of course the ultimate goal is the literal destruction of the family – God's most basic governmental unit - and the implementation of world wide government ruled by an elite class. Policies being advocated by the homosexual movement mirror those of the globalists. Laws that can't get passed through legislatures or federal government are being dealt with by the United Nations. In 1995, 189 U.N. member nations met in Beijing, China, for the Fourth World Conference on Women. They developed a document, the Platform for Action- PFA. This past June, the U.N. held the 5th conference – a special session to assess the progress on achieving the goals of the PFA. The U.N. seeks equality between children and adults. Children should be allowed to make their own decisions – not to be under the extreme influence of parents' religious beliefs. Homosexuality and the erosion of traditional 2 parent families is seen as a stepping stone to total equality. In their world the government decides a person's occupation, his or her station in life, when procreation shall occur and by what means. Already the harvesting of aborted babies and the scientific search for an endless supply of transplant organs is meant to allow this ruling elite to live on and on. In their world men and women will live in separate units, eat in mass kitchens, and take orders by the state. Families and motherhood will be in the past.

Today's educators are being taught to be agents of change – to foster rebellion – to instill gender confusion and religious mistrust - to subvert parental authority and to generally insure easy entrance of their students to a one world economy, society, and nation.

What Can You Do?

If you are a new parent or your children are 5-6 or under you are in the ideal situation. At this age a child generally views his parents as heroes. What a parent does and says at this stage is very important and could determine the entire future outcome of your child. Unless you home school your children they will soon be at the mercy of a public educator. Even some well-meaning conservative teachers are on the one-world bandwagon. Just like the seminaries, our teachers academies were taken over in the late 50's and today are cesspools of Judaic>Marxist>Communist>Globalist thought. Parents should prayerfully consider home schooling their children. This alone will allow you to properly educate your child in the Godly principles of government, citizenship, and conduct. Often through prayer God will provide a way for one parent to stay home to take on this responsibility. The family may have to take its step of faith by moving forward with the decision. The family may need to learn new ways to cut costs or go with less if they are serious about their child's academic and moral education. If home schooling just won't work for you, you must take extra precautions in regard to your children's education. Remember that schools today aren't just about learning to read and write. They are viewed as hothouses for impressionable young children. As a gardener would do – the young twigs will be watered just right – and fed the right type of mental food – and be encouraged to grow toward their light – and grown into compliant global citizens - all through the nurturing hands of the public school system. Parents must take an active stand in the home for their beliefs. Children also must learn to take an active role in the family's belief system. No opportunity to discuss their place as a child of God and follower of Christ-not the world-should be missed. Children must be taught to appreciate the close bonds of family and to understand the role of the family in the advancement of Christianity. If parents develop a passion for study of their heritage, faith, and country, children will follow suit. And above all, quality time doesn't always make up for quantity. For parents of older children, hopefully for their sake you have already been taking an active role in the family as a teacher of your beliefs. It is unfortunate for them if you have just now decided to begin overseeing the moral, religious, and racist training of your children. If they have grown to be under the spell of liberal teachers and the "we are the world" teen scene, you may find your self in for a long long struggle. If you find yourself in this situation you are going to have to "prove" yourself to your kids. Kids in schools today are taught to pick up on a parent's "racist" or "homophobic" speech. They may see you as just another bigot. Kids in these types of family's will be watching the parent's every move. They are well aware of the common concepts of Christianity -compassion, loyalty, ethical business dealings, love, respectful speech, etc. You can not afford to have your children view you as a hypocrite or they will never give any credence to your ideas of race, faith, and nation. And it shouldn't need to be mentioned that a lot of prayer is to be involved. You should also not be under the assumption that just because you use the word nigger, gook, spick, or some other slur that your children will grow up to be noble in thought and deed. Fitting the Hollywood stereotype of a racist is no guarantee of a cultivated white Christian separatist. In most instances it will only backfire and your kids will think you are hateful monsters. Finally, from this point forward whether you have been an ideal parent, or you're just starting to get serious about it – start now and don't ever give up. You are your children's best chance for a happy future. Furthermore God commands parents to raise up their children to follow Him and his laws. If this is accomplished than you are a success at parenting and your children will call you great.

Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God, the Lord is one. Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength. These commandments that I give you today are to be upon your hearts. Impress them on your children. Talk about them when you sit at home and when you walk along the road, when you lie down and when you get up. (Deut. 6:4-7)
